

enneade

Biography

The King Of Silver

Enneade initially spawns out of Frédéric Lacousse, Gines Jimenez and Georges-Marc Lavarenne's tireless minds. From 1996 to 2000, the band incorporate various new members from as many different musical horizons and influences.

This plurality of minds enables Enneade to produce gradually blooming progressive music – a guideline that becomes a constant.

Along the way, creative-minded musicians join in the collective effort and record two demos.

The Dreamscape

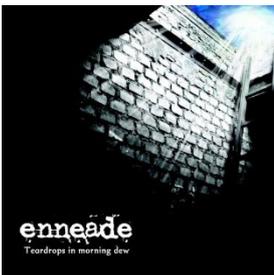

2001 – a stabilizing Odyssey.

A debut album « Remembrance » (Musea Records) is released in 2005 with new recordings of previously released material.

This opus brings to life the closing chapter of the « Dreamscape Trilogy ».

Listen here

Elements

Fast-forward to 2011 and the release of Enneade's second album « Teardrops in Morning Dew » (Galileo Records), with its darkening mood and greater variety of atmospheres and textures, the title track a musical evocation of the successive psychological stages through which the mind of a man faced with mourning slowly meanders. More thoroughly-constructed pieces such as « Elements » also rise into the light of day. After releasing the album and until 2015, new line-up changes occur, before stabilizing again – and the writing process starts afresh.

Listen here

Autumn

2021 brings forth the recording of Enneade's third album « Withered Flowers and Cinnamon ». This album produced by Vallis Lupi, will be released in April 2022. An opus which brings together 5 pieces that are diverse in mood, but coherent in sequences.

This new album required special attention in the composition. For the first time, Enneade calls on "guest" musicians: Kunio Suma of Bi Kyo Ran on guitar and Olivier Sola on saxophone

Listen here

Fractal Assault

Enneade's non-profit organisation, Fractal Assault has managed the band's assets and activities since 2006. It also aims at promoting progressive music through the organisation of musical events.

Contact : fractalassault@gmail.com

Enneade :

Julien Fayolle : Bass, Stick, Moog Taurus, Glockenspiel
Christophe Goulevitch : Guitar
Christian Greven : Vocals, Keyboards

Frédéric Lacousse : Drums, Percussions
Georges-Marc Lavarenne : Guitar, Keyboards, Vocals